

Janet pressed her lips to her father's wrinkled forehead with more tenderness seat and shaking his head. "Janet, dear, you have quite given me the horrors! Now, for a change, let us take a top and mop his brow. His only rival in musical action is the tambourine man of a minstrel troupe, but his instrument discards a myriad of tambourines.

which was granted. He at once approached the tube and, puckering up his mouth, whispered: "Gretchen, you may bring up lunch for two."

It is a matter of concern to the people of Wisconsin and the neighboring States who depend upon them for lumber supplies.

miscreant had given him a $10 bill. "I'm sorry, one touch of nature makes the whole world kin."

... hotel, but the head steward is to out c
... yellow kids and speak four lan- dead
... es. a fox

on a journey; a crow perched on a body floating down the river, and crossing one's path.

The People's Press.

SALEM, N. C.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 18, 1881.

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at Salem, N. C.

THE PEOPLE'S PRESS FOR 1881.

ENLARGED AND IMPROVED.

$1.50 A YEAR.

The Press entered its twenty-fifth (25th) volume on January 1st, 1881. Now is the time to subscribe. It will be our endeavor to make the Press more interesting and entertaining than ever.

L. V. & E. T. BLUM.

Salem, N. C., Jan. 1, 1881.

Special Announcement.

All subscribers to the PEOPLE'S PRESS will be supplied with Chambers' Encyclopedia, complete in fifteen volumes and the Press for one year, at $7, freight added, paid in advance. "The Library of Useful Knowledge large type" which includes Chambers' complete, and about 15,000 added topics by American Editors, is furnished in fifteen octavo volumes with the Press for one year at $12, paid in advance. Postage or freight added.

These offers are for a limited time only, and all who wish a first class Encyclopedia for reference should embrace this opportunity at once. Postal money order or registered letter will be the safest mode of remitting the money.

Other books of the American Book Exchange, will be forwarded or ordered at the published price list, postage added. We keep on hand sample copies of many of their books, which can be examined at the SALEM BOOK STORE.

The State Prohibition Convention, which met in Raleigh last week, about 200 delegates being present, resolved that the General Assembly be requested to pass an unqualified prohibition law, imposing penalties for the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, as a beverage.

FIRE IN DURHAM.—We learn from the Raleigh News and Observer that a third fire, in less than seven weeks, occurred in Durham, last week. The fire originated in the store of Styron & Co., from a stove pipe, and communicated to twenty stores and other buildings. Estimated loss $75,000.

WAR DEPARTMENT.—From the report of the Secretary of War, it appears that the expenditure of that department during the last fiscal year amounted to $39,924,773.

The estimate for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1882, are $43,627,055. The report recommends an increase of the army to 30,000 men, and the more perfect organization of the State militia.

TREASURY DEPOSITS.—The Wilmington Star says: "The report of the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States shows an increase in receipts for the fiscal year of nearly six millions, and an increase of expenditures of over half a million."

SEASONABLE SUGGESTIONS.—In the North Carolina Farmer for January, under the above caption, we find brief but pointed articles for the beginning of the year, substantially as follows:

Make compost manure, if you have not previously attended to it. Have written agreements, as persons are apt to forget or misunderstand verbal agreements.

Have a plan. Taking things for granted that the year will be seasonable, has caused the failure of many a crop, when thorough preparation and good honest work would have made a good crop.

Keep a slate or memorandum to note down work, to be done during the day, week, or month. Keep a strict farm account of every thing.

From Washington. The business before Congress is progressing slowly. The refunding of the large amount of bonds due this year occupies the attention of Congress. The House favored a 3 per cent. interest rate. The retiring bill of Gen. Grant, with full rank and pay of General will probably lie over. House passed Indian appropriation bill. Patent fees are to be reduced, at least a bill favorable to the reduction is before the House. Gen. Goff, of West Virginia, has been confirmed as Secretary of the Navy. It is almost certain Blaine will get into Garfield's Cabinet.

On the 17th, in the House of Representatives, a bill was introduced proposing a constitutional amendment providing that United States Senators shall be elected by the people of each State, instead of by the Legislature.

A report was transmitted of the Superintendent of Census, showing the population of the United States to be 50,152,866.

The apportionment bill fixes the number of Representatives at 301.

The Legislature has given the public printing to the Raleigh News and Observer at an advanced price.

The Prohibition Convention.

Of the second day's session we copy the following from the News-Observer:

The business committee reported the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the convention recommend that county prohibition associations be organized at once in each county to further the work in their respective counties by procuring signatures to prohibition petitions, and in such other ways as the good of the cause may require, and that these associations put themselves in immediate communication with the central committee at Raleigh.

On motion the resolution was adopted. Resolved, That the friends of prohibition throughout the State, as well as the members of the convention, continue to circulate petitions in their respective communities to be forwarded forthwith to the chairman of the central committee at Raleigh, Rev. Dr. Skinner, and that this central committee see that the petitions from each county be placed in the hands of their respective representatives, by them to be laid before the Legislature, and that these petitions be forwarded to the committee by the 15th day of February next.

Resolved, That county prohibition associations take immediate steps to raise funds for defraying the necessary expenses of the movement, and forward to the treasurer of the central committee at Raleigh, Jno. E. Ray, Esq. Resolved, That the business committee of the convention be constituted a permanent central executive committee of the Prohibition Association of North Carolina, and that the committee be empowered to appoint an executive committee of five, a majority of which shall constitute a quorum.

The resolutions were fully discussed and adopted.

Rev. Mr. Martin introduced the following Resolved, That the petitions now before this convention be classed according to counties, and that the petitions from each county be placed in the hands of their respective representatives by the executive committee, to be presented to the Legislature.

On motion the resolution was adopted, an excellent address.

At the close of the speech a collection was taken up and a handsome amount realized to aid in defraying the expenses of the work marked out by the convention.

A motion requesting of Hon. A. S. Johnston, of the Rev. Dr. Skinner copies of their admirable addresses for publication was unanimously adopted.

AYER'S ALMANAC.—We have received a copy of Ayer's Almanac for 1881, in English, German, Dutch, Norwegian, Swedish, French, Spanish, Portuguese and Bohemian. The book is really a curiosity, being nine Almanacs put together, making about 446 pages.

THE SOUTH.—A Philadelphia correspondent of the New York Herald, speaking of Col. McClure's observations during his recent Southern tour, says:

"The message Mr. McClure brings back is full of hope and promise and encouragement, not only from a political point of view, but also financially and commercially. Prosperity South means prosperity North, and the South is prospering now as never prospered before. Her crops are the largest in all her history, and she is beginning to quiver with new life and energy, social, political and industrial."

Such liberal minded persons as Col. McClure will always be welcomed in the South. Northern narrow-minded fanatics and political tricksters the South has very little use for.

Forney's Philadelphia Press says: On no part of the American people will the plan to grow more rapidly than among the masses of the South. They realize not only their tremendous increase in trade, population and railroads, but also that while holding the Senate of the United States, and very nearly dividing the United States House of Representatives, they must gain every year in the popular vote and in Congress.

All that is needed among the Democrats of the country is honest leadership and perfect union among themselves. And these seem easy to attain, in view of the time before them and the tremendous warning just behind them.

A very clever editorial in the New York Times, of the 2nd inst., on the great industrial change, is inevitable in the South, says: "Georgia, the most progressive of the Southern States, has already forty cotton factories, and is planning the establishment of many more. South Carolina has made a beginning, and its leading newspapers are clamoring for a vigorous extension of the business. As usual, not a word about the quiet, most old State of North Carolina. Mr. Times, when you quote cotton factories as evidence of progress in the South, please state that North Carolina has fifty-seven cotton factories in operation, and several more in process of construction. That all but twenty-seven of these have been built since the war, that they all run on full time, and several of them day and night, and none are able to keep up with their orders, and that at the end of the present decade, we will count factories with any State South."

News and Observer.

It has been mentioned that in point of population North Carolina is the quiet, most old State of the Union. It has been officially announced that our total population is 1,400,000, as follows:

Males 688,164
Females 711,836
Total 1,399,999

Foreign Born 3,678
White 897,467
Colored 502,532

The Bureau counts among the colored population 1 Japanese and 1,216 Indians and half-breeds.

The young man who shirks his duties as often as possible never succeeds in life. You may set it down that sooner or later he will be a drone in the great hive of human industry. If you begin life a shirk, you may set it down as a fixed fact that the habit will follow you through life, and instead of a success, you will be an utter failure.

The Legislature.

Condensed from the Evening Visitor.

On Saturday, 8th inst., several petitions in relation to prohibiting the sale of liquor in certain localities were presented in the Senate.

The following resolutions and bills among others, were offered:

A bill for the relief of tin and book peddlers.

A bill to perfect the organization of the Carolina Central Railway. (Allows the new company to issue bonds.)

Resolution directing the members of Congress from this State to vote for the educational bill.

A bill to amend Battle's Revisal in relation to the fees of constables.

A bill to amend the constitution in relation to the election and terms of Senators.

Resolutions to raise a joint select committee on fish interests.

A bill to incorporate the Superannated Fund Society.

A bill to amend the school law.

A bill in relation to trials before justices of the peace.

A bill to appoint competent judges and inspectors of elections.

A message was received from the House proposing to raise a joint select committee on prohibition. The proposition was concurred in.

The House met at 11 o'clock. The following resolutions and petitions were offered:

A petition from the citizens of Mitchell county, asking the prohibition of the sale and manufacture of liquor in North Carolina.

A bill to amend section 11, chapter 162, laws of 1876-77, relative to the school fund.

A bill to provide for the holding of elections in this state on the first Thursday in August.

Amend the election law of 1876, and 1877.

To provide for the compilation of the public statutes. (Provides that the Supreme Court shall appoint commissioners for the purpose.)

To exempt from taxation manufacturing in the State for ten years, and also to license salesmen of articles made in the State.

To amend the present law so as to allow the people to elect justices of the peace and county commissioners.

To prevent justices of the peace from trying processes issued by themselves.

To make slander indictable.

In relation to criminal jurisdiction of justices of the peace.

To amend the constitution so as to require the payment of poll tax before voting.

To provide for the election of certain county officers.

To exempt ministers of the gospel from working on public roads.

To amend the laws with regard to criminal jurisdiction of justices of the peace.

To amend chapter 325 of the laws of 1879, relative to the jury fund.

Providing for the Supreme Court to meet on the 1st Monday in February and October, instead of January and July.

To provide that all taxes collected by the State from professions, trades, &c., shall belong to the public school fund.

SENATE, January 12.

Bills and resolutions were introduced and referred and otherwise disposed of as follows:

A bill to amend the law in relation to the probate of deeds.

A bill supplemental to an act creating a State board of health.

A bill to insure the annual publication of vital statistics.

A bill to create a railroad commissioner for the State.

A resolution in behalf of maimed soldiers. Adopted.

The resolution to investigate the treatment of convicts was taken up and discussed at length and a substitute for it was finally adopted.

CALENDAR.

Bill to make the use of language calculated and intended to create a breach of the peace a misdemeanor. Laid on the table.

Bill to perfect the organization of the Carolina Central Railroad Company. The bill was read and passed second time, and on motion the rules were suspended and the bill was read and passed third time.

Bill to allow both parties to offer evidence in motion for continuance.

Bills in relation to trials before justices of the peace. Laid on the table.

Bill to appoint competent judges and inspectors of elections.

Mr. Clark said he thought the bill ought to pass, that inspectors of elections ought to be men of intelligence.

Mr. Beard thought the bill ought to pass as an additional security for the purity of the ballot.

Mr. Finger held the same view.

Mr. Burwell moved to recommitt the bill which was done.

The House of Representatives met at 11 o'clock.

The resolutions were introduced as follows:

To expunge from the records the impeachment trial of W. W. Holden.

Providing that no person contesting a seat in the House without good cause shall receive mileage and per diem.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

To prevent cruelty to animals.

To amend the law in relation to a township in Jones county on license or no license.

To amend chapter 8 of the laws of 1880, relative to public roads in certain counties.

To incorporate the Fayetteville and Winston Railroad Company.

To repeal chapter 127, laws of 1879, relative to carrying concealed weapons.

SENATE, January 13.

Mr. Wayne presented a petition from H. M. Tupper, praying for an acre from the Government reservation lot for a colored medical college.

Bills and resolutions were introduced as follows:

A bill to allow defendants to testify in their own behalf in all criminal cases.

A bill to give liens of laborers priority.

CALENDAR.

Resolution to inquire into the official conduct of Judge Schenck.

Resolution in regard to education.

Bill to amend the school law of 1876 and 1877.

Bill to punish any one defacing public records.

Bill to amend chapter 141, laws of 1879, to restore to force the provisions of the 13th and 14th amendments.

Bill to amend the code of civil procedure in relation to the writs of habeas corpus and certiorari.

Bill to punish injury to telegraph lines. Passed.

In the House of Representatives the following resolutions were introduced:

Of instruction to our Congressmen with regard to qualifications of revenue officers.

Resolution on Friday the prohibition petitions were presented. Bill exempting ministers of the gospel having charge of churches from working on public roads passed its third reading, also passed the House.

Resolution requesting the judiciary committee to report what legislation is necessary to protect tenants from the rapacity of landlords. Relating to book peddlers.

Bills were introduced as follows:

To provide for the payment of jurors. To prevent prisoners for life from working out of prison, and to prevent the whipping of prisoners. To prevent the felling of timber in Yadkin River. To amend the law relating to the public printing. To fix the rates of public printing, provides a higher rate to be paid. Relating to official advertising.

House bill 38, to amend the oath of insolvent debtors, failed to pass on its second reading. House bill 31, to make the crime of abortion a felony, passed its second and third readings.

Saturday, 13th, Committee reported. Resolutions were introduced and referred as follows:

A bill for the better protection of patridges.

A bill to require the registration of deeds.

A bill to revise and consolidate the public school law.

A bill to prevent fraud and forgery.

Resolution to investigate the treatment of convicts.

In the House the following petitions were presented:

A petition from the citizens of Halifax, praying the prohibition of the sale of liquor.

A petition praying prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors in certain localities.

A petition from the citizens of Wayne county in favor of prohibition.

SENATE, January 14.

Bills and resolutions were introduced and referred and otherwise disposed of as follows:

A bill to amend the law in relation to the probate of deeds.

A bill supplemental to an act creating a State board of health.

A bill to insure the annual publication of vital statistics.

A bill to create a railroad commissioner for the State.

A resolution in behalf of maimed soldiers. Adopted.

The resolution to investigate the treatment of convicts was taken up and discussed at length and a substitute for it was finally adopted.

CALENDAR.

Bill to make the use of language calculated and intended to create a breach of the peace a misdemeanor. Laid on the table.

Bill to perfect the organization of the Carolina Central Railroad Company. The bill was read and passed second time, and on motion the rules were suspended and the bill was read and passed third time.

Bill to allow both parties to offer evidence in motion for continuance.

Bills in relation to trials before justices of the peace. Laid on the table.

Bill to appoint competent judges and inspectors of elections.

Mr. Clark said he thought the bill ought to pass, that inspectors of elections ought to be men of intelligence.

Mr. Beard thought the bill ought to pass as an additional security for the purity of the ballot.

Mr. Finger held the same view.

Mr. Burwell moved to recommitt the bill which was done.

The House of Representatives met at 11 o'clock.

The resolutions were introduced as follows:

To expunge from the records the impeachment trial of W. W. Holden.

Providing that no person contesting a seat in the House without good cause shall receive mileage and per diem.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

To prevent cruelty to animals.

To amend the law in relation to a township in Jones county on license or no license.

To amend chapter 8 of the laws of 1880, relative to public roads in certain counties.

To incorporate the Fayetteville and Winston Railroad Company.

To repeal chapter 127, laws of 1879, relative to carrying concealed weapons.

SENATE, January 15.

Bills and resolutions were introduced and referred and otherwise disposed of as follows:

A bill to amend the law in relation to the probate of deeds.

A bill supplemental to an act creating a State board of health.

A bill to insure the annual publication of vital statistics.

A bill to create a railroad commissioner for the State.

A resolution in behalf of maimed soldiers. Adopted.

The resolution to investigate the treatment of convicts was taken up and discussed at length and a substitute for it was finally adopted.

CALENDAR.

Bill to make the use of language calculated and intended to create a breach of the peace a misdemeanor. Laid on the table.

Bill to perfect the organization of the Carolina Central Railroad Company. The bill was read and passed second time, and on motion the rules were suspended and the bill was read and passed third time.

Bill to allow both parties to offer evidence in motion for continuance.

Bills in relation to trials before justices of the peace. Laid on the table.

Bill to appoint competent judges and inspectors of elections.

Mr. Clark said he thought the bill ought to pass, that inspectors of elections ought to be men of intelligence.

Mr. Beard thought the bill ought to pass as an additional security for the purity of the ballot.

Mr. Finger held the same view.

Mr. Burwell moved to recommitt the bill which was done.

The House of Representatives met at 11 o'clock.

The resolutions were introduced as follows:

To expunge from the records the impeachment trial of W. W. Holden.

Providing that no person contesting a seat in the House without good cause shall receive mileage and per diem.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

To prevent cruelty to animals.

To amend the law in relation to a township in Jones county on license or no license.

To amend chapter 8 of the laws of 1880, relative to public roads in certain counties.

To incorporate the Fayetteville and Winston Railroad Company.

To repeal chapter 127, laws of 1879, relative to carrying concealed weapons.

SENATE, January 16.

Bills and resolutions were introduced and referred and otherwise disposed of as follows:

A bill to amend the law in relation to the probate of deeds.

A bill supplemental to an act creating a State board of health.

A bill to insure the annual publication of vital statistics.

A bill to create a railroad commissioner for the State.

A resolution in behalf of maimed soldiers. Adopted.

The resolution to investigate the treatment of convicts was taken up and discussed at length and a substitute for it was finally adopted.

CALENDAR.

Bill to make the use of language calculated and intended to create a breach of the peace a misdemeanor. Laid on the table.

Bill to perfect the organization of the Carolina Central Railroad Company. The bill was read and passed second time, and on motion the rules were suspended and the bill was read and passed third time.

Bill to allow both parties to offer evidence in motion for continuance.

Bills in relation to trials before justices of the peace. Laid on the table.

Bill to appoint competent judges and inspectors of elections.

Mr. Clark said he thought the bill ought to pass, that inspectors of elections ought to be men of intelligence.

Mr. Beard thought the bill ought to pass as an additional security for the purity of the ballot.

Mr. Finger held the same view.

Mr. Burwell moved to recommitt the bill which was done.

The House of Representatives met at 11 o'clock.

The resolutions were introduced as follows:

To expunge from the records the impeachment trial of W. W. Holden.

Providing that no person contesting a seat in the House without good cause shall receive mileage and per diem.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

To prevent cruelty to animals.

To amend the law in relation to a township in Jones county on license or no license.

To amend chapter 8 of the laws of 1880, relative to public roads in certain counties.

To incorporate the Fayetteville and Winston Railroad Company.

To repeal chapter 127, laws of 1879, relative to carrying concealed weapons.

LAND FOR SALE.

The subscriber wishes to sell a tract of land lying on the Belvidere Creek Road, adjoining the lands of W. H. Wheeler, Lemly and Brooks and John Maaten, containing 60 acres, more or less. The land is well timbered, and within one mile of Winston.

W. J. COOPER, Agent.

1881

GIFT BOOKS.

GREAT ATTRACTIONS

Salem Bookstore.

The People's Press.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 20, 1881.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Special Notice.—Persons wishing to have printing well done, will please call at the Press office. We can print as cheap as the market.

—Persons wishing to pay their newspaper subscriptions in wood, will please bring it along.

—Prof. D'Anna is home again from a visit North.

—Capt. J. F. Hellen and lady have returned from their bridal tour.

—Miss Mary Shober, of Greensboro, is visiting relatives and friends in Salem.

—Mrs. Dwyer is selling that large stock of Winter Goods at cost.

—William Bohnson is captain of Winston police, in place of H. C. Wooster, resigned.

—The U. S. Revenue office has been removed to the Siddle store building in this place.

—Samuel A. Veach has returned home from a visit to St. Louis, Mo., and other points west.

A variety of Baskets are to be found at Salem Bookstore.

—Dr. Robak T. Gray, son of the late deceased Robert Gray, has returned to his home in Winston.

—Nash Carter, col., was found near Harrison's ford, dead, with his throat cut. No clue to the murderer, as yet.

—Wm. Johnson, of Davis County, was jailed last week in default of bail, charged with stealing Samuel Sink's overcoat.

—Thomas Ferrabee, Sr., of Farmington, Davis County, slaughtered a hog weighing 713 lbs. And Daniel Eaton one weighing 675 lbs.

—Thomas Bacon, for sometime employed at the railroad depot, has gone to Florida to accept of an office under the Jacksonville, Pensacola and Mobile Railroad Company.

Go to Mrs. T. B. Douthitt's store in Salem, and buy Shawls, Scarfs, Hoods, Kid Gloves at cost, during January.

—Col. A. B. Gorrell, of Winston, is one of the delegates to the National Militia Convention, to be held in Philadelphia on the 20th inst.

Application will be made to the Legislature to amend the charter of Winston to empower the commissioners to restrict the erection of wooden buildings in that town.

—The engineering party of the N. C. Midland Railroad are making preliminary surveys a few miles from town. During the recent snow and bad weather they worked on, making good time.

—Remember, as stated last week, the Philharmonic Society Concert will take place on the 26th in the Academy Church, Salem, and on the 27th in Brown's Hall, Winston.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Wachovia National Bank, the old officers were re-elected. W. F. Bowman, President; E. Belo, Vice-President; W. A. Lemly, Cashier; Jas. A. Gray, Assistant Cashier.

—Miss Crist's school has entered upon the Spring Session under very encouraging auspices. We are glad to recommend this school, the training being of the most complete and thorough character, as the parents of the children who have been attending for the past two years can testify.

The Raleigh News says Senator Glenn from this county is just and flattering tribute when it says, "Mr. Glenn, on the contested election, came forward in the debate; he is always watchful and attentive, and was heard with interest and attention."

—All of the ladies go to Mrs. Douthitt's for Goods at cost during January.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.—The M. E. Quarterly Conference will be held in Winston, commencing next Saturday. The 1st Quarterly Conference of the Methodist Protestant church, Forsyth Circuit, is appointed to be held at Pleasant Hill, second Sabbath and Saturday before, in February.

DEATH OF ROBERT GRAY.—Robert Gray, Esq., one of the oldest and most highly esteemed citizens of Winston, died on Monday morning, from pleurisy, aged 66 years. Mr. Gray's health had been declining for some time, but his death was unexpectedly sudden.

The Leader says: "He got up in the morning, apparently as usual, held prayers, and ate his breakfast in his room. Shortly after he was heard to fall upon the floor, and when assistance reached him, he was in death's embrace."

NEW BOOKS.—A lot of new Riverside Library publications just received at the Salem Bookstore.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—We learn from the Danbury Reporter that G. N. France, living near Greensboro, Stokes County, went into a well 30 feet deep, to clean it out, when the wall caved in, but he luckily escaped, as the rock fell in such a manner as not to crush him but only imprison him. After considerable delay in making arrangements, a large number of men went to work and after ten and a half hours hard work, succeeded in bringing up Mr. France, though in a delicate condition. It is thought he will recover.

A fresh stock of Crowell's British Poets, in beautiful bindings, at the Salem Bookstore.

—Roll of Honor for the public colored school of Salem, N. C., for the week ending Jan. 14th, 1881.

L. T. Reed's School.—W. H. Mebane, Richard Mebane, Nelson Harrison, Geo. Harrison, Clifton Harrison, W. T. Clark, Henry Fries, J. M. Rogers.

Leah Dore's School.—Wm. Thompson, James Lennor, Lee Oaks, John Palmer, Alec, Franklin, Joseph Mitchell, John Oaks.

SALEM PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY CONCERT.

Sig. S. D'ANNA, DIRECTOR.

January 26th.

"STABAT MATER" OF ROSSINI.

In Chapel of Salem Academy.

January 27th.

MISCELLANEOUS PROGRAMME.

Brown's Opera House, Winston.

FRED. W. JAMESON, of St. Thomas' Church, New York, the celebrated Tenor Soloist will assist at both concerts.

We append a notice from the Republican, of Scranton, Pa., Dec. 31st, 1880:

The tenor solo was sung by Mr. F. W. Jameson, of New York. He captivated every ear with his first notes, and held admiration to the end. His voice was the purest of tenors, clear as a clarion, filling the house with the faintest pianissimo, and yet his forte was never intrusive. His compass is remarkable, and it is rare to find a voice so evenly gifted in all the registers.

Music Hall has not received so pleasing a tenor within our knowledge.

Tickets for sale at Blickenderfer's Notion Store, in Salem, and at Curtis' Bookstore, in Winston. Diagram of seats at each place.

Tickets for both concerts, reserved seats, $1.00

Single tickets, reserved seats, 75

Single tickets, 50

—Memorial services were held in St. Paul's church Sunday night last, to the memory of Rt. Rev. Bishop Atkinson, whose death was recorded last week.

Rev. W. S. Bynum preached the sermon, which was a fitting tribute to the lamented Bishop.—Leader.

Press Correspondence.

—Rev. Thos. Long has stored away a house full of ice.

—We have heard of several persons having pigs to freeze during the snow.

—The marksman about Richard Beeson's engaged in another shooting match last Saturday. There was a fine turkey in stake. They say they had a jolly time; no liquor, and all peaceable.

—We learn there is a paper circulating in Davidson County, petitioning the Legislature to stop the manufacture of liquor. Nearly all to whom it is presented sign.

—We hear of fruit cans being burst during the late cold weather by freezing. Persons should remember that liquids expand in freezing, and make allowance for this by not filling cans quite full.

For the Press.

—The New Friendship Sunday School entertainment as announced last week, came off on Saturday a week. Although the weather was bad, the people came in wagons, buggies and sleds, and by the time appointed for the exercises to commence, a good congregation was present.

The exercises were opened by reading the second chapter of Luke, singing by the choir, and prayer by J. E. McCuiston, followed by singing. A series of dialogues, speeches, songs, &c., were then given. Phoebe Lambeth spoke of Christmas time quite appropriately. Mary Shaw's recitation, "A happy Christmas," was well given. Joseph Wilson then spoke of the "Flight into Egypt," followed by a song "Rejoice and be Glad." Anna Shaw sang a Christmas Hymn in splendid style. Lewis H. Wilson spoke of the "Burial of Moses." May Charles did well with her "Infant Compassion." A song, followed by Sarah J. Stewart with a well spoken recitation, "The affectionate Saviour." Clara Charles' subject, "All for Christ," was well spoken. David Rothrock delivered an excellent address, "Christ all in all." Clara Hege gave a fine description of the first Christmas. Emma Vestal's "Dark Valley" was interesting. Nancy J. Hine spoke about Christmas Cards. The dialogue, by fifteen young ladies, created quite a sensation. Alma Charles delivered a Christmas Prose Poem. The "Ten Virgins" was very interesting. A song introduced the wise virgins, with their lamps burning, followed by the five foolish virgins, with lamps out. This piece was considered by many as the best. Excellent addresses were delivered by A. P. Snider and J. F. McCuiston.

DIED.

In Southfork Township, on the 12th inst., Mrs. Mary Myers, wife of William Myers, aged 78 years.

—Died, in Davidson County, on the 12th inst., EZEKIEL HERDECK, aged about 65 years.

George Elliot's Roma.

A timely interest is given, by the death of the author, to the new edition of her masterpiece, "Roma," just issued by the American Book Exchange, New York. It shows her work at its best and strongest, and at the same time gives the reader the opportunity to acquire a lasting familiarity with the scenes and society of medieval Italy. It is one of the few really great historical romances of the world. It is issued in a handy and beautiful form, extra cloth binding, simple but rare elegance and taste in design, and like the other issues of the "Literary Revolution" its cost is almost nominal, viz. 35 cents.

It is one of a series intended to form a library of classic fiction, which will include the most representative and characteristic work of each of the great authors who have won lasting fame in the realm of fiction. Life is too short and too full of work to permit the reading of all that is beautiful and valuable in these creations of the imagination, but even very busy people can find time to read one book by each of the score of authors whose names are immortal faces and place in the affections of the people. Not to be acquainted with them is to be ignorant of much that is most important and most interesting in the history of nations and of men.

Not to possess them is to be deprived of most fruitful and profitable sources of enjoyment. Among those issues or nearly so, are: Scott's "Ivanhoe," Bulwer's "Pompeii," Irving's "Knickerbocker," Cooper's "Mohicans," "Tom Brown at Rugby," "Adventures of Don Quixote," "Urania," a Romance of Ancient Egypt." Full catalogue of standard publications will be sent on request, by the American Book Exchange, Tribune Building, New York.

—Samuel H. Erwin, of Ute Creek, Colfax Co., New Mexico, says: "The 'Only Lung Pad' has done more for my only lung than all the gallons of Cod Liver Oil, French or American, she has taken, or all the Doctor's Medicines she has used.—See Advr.

STATE ITEMS.

—There are two colored men in the North Carolina Senate and in the House twelve.

—John Gray Bynum, of Morganton, N. C., has been appointed messenger at the postoffice of the United States House of Representatives.

—Rev. John M. Rose, a native of Fayetteville, N. C., has resigned the pastorate of the Presbyterian church, Portsmouth, and accepted a call to the Second Presbyterian church, Memphis, Tenn.

—In accordance with the verdict of the coroner's jury in the case of the late accident to the Charlotte and Air Line Railroad, J. J. Wisenberry, engineer of the train which ran into the rear coach of the passenger train, resulting in the death of three persons, has been arrested for murder and confined in jail at Charlotte. Wisenberry has been released on bail.

—On last Monday a week fifteen Englishmen, with their families, arrived in Newbern for the purpose of prospecting for land, and they observed that they are much pleased with the soil, and that they will probably establish themselves in that section. They are in the number of several hundred of their countrymen will soon join them there, if land can be procured.

A dispatch to the Columbia Register from Rock Hill, dated the 10th inst., says: "The election of intendant and wardens for the town of Rock Hill, took place to-day. The contest, which was between the wet and dry tickets, was close and spirited, resulting in the election of the latter by a majority of four. It is understood that the new council will adopt a resolution allowing the saloon keepers sixty days in which to settle up their business and close their establishments."

—A gentleman in Washington who is said by the papers to be in a position to know all the news, thus writes to the Charlotte Democrat:

"W. J. Best was in Washington yesterday en route to Raleigh with the funds to pay off the debt installments on his railroad purchase."

"I am informed that he has organized a new company with ample capital to build both the Ducktown and Faint Rock lines. He has secured the right to utilize the Oaksmith charter, by building the road from Goldsboro to Charlotte."

"You may look for a bitter fight between him and the Richmond & Danville Railroad. At least he talks that way."

What can it all mean?—Landmark.

NORTH CAROLINA BONDS.—The course of North Carolina bonds on the market has been as follows: March, at 90; October, 77; November, 82; December, 82. These are now quoted at 84.

The construction bonds, North Carolina Railroad, with coupons, were: January, 1879, 80; February, 100; August, 106; August, 109; December, 111. They are now quoted at 115. With coupons off the quotations were: January, 1879, 78; March, 80; July, 82; December, 82. They are now quoted at 84.

The New Friendship Sunday School entertainment as announced last week, came off on Saturday a week. Although the weather was bad, the people came in wagons, buggies and sleds, and by the time appointed for the exercises to commence, a good congregation was present.

The exercises were opened by reading the second chapter of Luke, singing by the choir, and prayer by J. E. McCuiston, followed by singing. A series of dialogues, speeches, songs, &c., were then given. Phoebe Lambeth spoke of Christmas time quite appropriately. Mary Shaw's recitation, "A happy Christmas," was well given. Joseph Wilson then spoke of the "Flight into Egypt," followed by a song "Rejoice and be Glad." Anna Shaw sang a Christmas Hymn in splendid style. Lewis H. Wilson spoke of the "Burial of Moses." May Charles did well with her "Infant Compassion." A song, followed by Sarah J. Stewart with a well spoken recitation, "The affectionate Saviour." Clara Charles' subject, "All for Christ," was well spoken. David Rothrock delivered an excellent address, "Christ all in all." Clara Hege gave a fine description of the first Christmas. Emma Vestal's "Dark Valley" was interesting. Nancy J. Hine spoke about Christmas Cards. The dialogue, by fifteen young ladies, created quite a sensation. Alma Charles delivered a Christmas Prose Poem. The "Ten Virgins" was very interesting. A song introduced the wise virgins, with their lamps burning, followed by the five foolish virgins, with lamps out. This piece was considered by many as the best. Excellent addresses were delivered by A. P. Snider and J. F. McCuiston.

DIED.

In Southfork Township, on the 12th inst., Mrs. Mary Myers, wife of William Myers, aged 78 years.

—Died, in Davidson County, on the 12th inst., EZEKIEL HERDECK, aged about 65 years.

George Elliot's Roma.

A timely interest is given, by the death of the author, to the new edition of her masterpiece, "Roma," just issued by the American Book Exchange, New York. It shows her work at its best and strongest, and at the same time gives the reader the opportunity to acquire a lasting familiarity with the scenes and society of medieval Italy. It is one of the few really great historical romances of the world. It is issued in a handy and beautiful form, extra cloth binding, simple but rare elegance and taste in design, and like the other issues of the "Literary Revolution" its cost is almost nominal, viz. 35 cents.

It is one of a series intended to form a library of classic fiction, which will include the most representative and characteristic work of each of the great authors who have won lasting fame in the realm of fiction. Life is too short and too full of work to permit the reading of all that is beautiful and valuable in these creations of the imagination, but even very busy people can find time to read one book by each of the score of authors whose names are immortal faces and place in the affections of the people. Not to be acquainted with them is to be ignorant of much that is most important and most interesting in the history of nations and of men.

Not to possess them is to be deprived of most fruitful and profitable sources of enjoyment. Among those issues or nearly so, are: Scott's "Ivanhoe," Bulwer's "Pompeii," Irving's "Knickerbocker," Cooper's "Mohicans," "Tom Brown at Rugby," "Adventures of Don Quixote," "Urania," a Romance of Ancient Egypt." Full catalogue of standard publications will be sent on request, by the American Book Exchange, Tribune Building, New York.

—Samuel H. Erwin, of Ute Creek, Colfax Co., New Mexico, says: "The 'Only Lung Pad' has done more for my only lung than all the gallons of Cod Liver Oil, French or American, she has taken, or all the Doctor's Medicines she has used.—See Advr.

—That the South need not be commercially dependent on the North is evident. More cotton is shipped direct to Europe from each of the following towns than from New York City, to-wit: Norfolk, Charleston, Savannah, Mobile, New Orleans and Galveston.

The vessels engaged in this trade have to return and often come back in ballast. They are owned abroad and not in the South. We are prepared to utilize the vast amount of shipping thus coming into our Southern ports, we could free ourselves from our commercial dependence on a single route.

New Orleans is indeed taking the initiative steps to this end. She has largely increased her steamship plying to Central America and the West Indies, and has made considerable accessions to her trade in that direction. Imports of coffee from those countries, for example, since September 1, have grown to 18,331 bales and bags against 5,713 for the corresponding period last year, an enlargement of over 300 per cent.

NIAGARA IN WINTER.—The falls have assumed a remarkable appearance. The low water and continual cold weather have formed ice so fast and so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest inhabitants is never so beautiful.

Ice mounds are climbing their way to the top of the Canadian falls. Such a formation has not been known here for many years. The ice is now so thick that the falls are now a solid body of water. The ice comes still keeping growing larger, the icicles and stalactites heavier and the trees and rocks in the most beautiful style, and the thermometer averages about zero. With the exception of an ice bridge, the scenery in the memory of the oldest

